For Constipation! Physic Purge or Laxative?

Everyone now and then becomes constipated, and millions are chronically in that condition. The perplexing question arises—what to use.

Purgatives and cathartics are drastic and usually cause a reaction. Saline waters are rapid in action but do no more than empty the bowels.

Just as certain an effect, and certainly a much more pleasant one, can be obtained by the use of a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold by druggists under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It acts gently, without griping. It is an especially ideal medicine for children, women, old people and others who find purges too powerful.

Only a teaspoonful is required, and by morning the movement is free and complete. A bottle in the house is insurance for the whole family against constipation, indigestion, headaches, flatulency and other digestive ills.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

Dandruff Soon

Ruins the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel hundreds of times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need. No matter how much dandruff you have, this simple remedy never fails. Adv.

BREST HOSPITAL

Returned Officer Says That It Was Not Possible for Owen to Exaggerate Conditions

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Feb. 12. (Sp.)—Capt. Virginia Alexander, recently returned from overseas, corroborates the statements made by United States Robert D. Owen, of Oklahoma, that the American base hospital at Brest is "a hell for earth to live in."

Capt. Alexander came through Brest, and when he was shown what Senator Owen had to say in New York, and reported by an Associated Press dispatch, he said that it is even worse than the senator said.

"I was in Brest for 17 days," said Capt. Alexander, and can say that in my whole experience of 10 months in France I never saw conditions in any shape or form that could compare with Brest. While there the sick report in every battery in the regiment increased from a very few cases to over 500 per cent. Some divisions lost as many men from the flu or pneumonia as during the whole time at the front.

"When we arrived there we were put in tents, in which there were no floors or stoves, and men who had been in the line for 17 days were sent through the St. Mihiel and Argonne battles, were made to do steno work, such as cooking and unloading ships, all manner of fatigue work.

"When the men arrived at Brest all warm clothes were taken away and they were left in complete uniform. The men had to work all night many nights in mud and rain, and in the morning had to stand rigid inspection as if on parade. The punishment for not being quick and smart was a longer delay in embarking, with added fatigue duty.

"Personally, I would rather undergo any conditions, even those at the front, than another week at Brest. The American people should do something to have the port abolished or have conditions righted over there."

Lieut. M. Monaghan Returns From War With Battle Scars

Wounded twice in the same day by Hun shrapnel and gassed another time, Lieut. Monaghan III, of the 114th field artillery, has arrived home with an honorable discharge after having passed through many narrow escapes and having witnessed many sad sights from the shell-torn and gassed life in the front.

He is at present with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brown, 1033 East Parkway.

It was in the St. Mihiel campaign when he got a touch of Hun mustard gas. Fortunately he inhaled only a small bit of it, and was decombed only a short time. He rejoined his unit before they got into position for the mighty Argonne drive.

In this battle on Oct. 3 he was struck twice by shrapnel. The first one, a glancing piece of metal opened his scalp, but with blood streaming down his face, he refused to leave his battery and got to a dressing station. While in this plight in the thick of battle, he came upon a wounded soldier who had been struck by a shell.

A few moments after taking the soldier's body to the rear, Lieut. Monaghan was struck in the leg by a large piece of shrapnel and severely wounded. He spent several weeks in a hospital and was then invalided home.

He left Memphis with Maj. E. J. McCormack's artillery unit as a top sergeant and was commissioned lieutenant at Camp Sevier while the unit was in training there. He will now enter business with his father at the Brown & Monaghan Carriage works, 215 Court street.

Lieut. Monaghan believes the 114th and 115th artillery will be home soon, as they were promising to make when he left with a casualty company.

Why do Some Folks Dream All Night

If you are one of those healthy individuals who "never dream," be sure you are a deep sleeper. Your sleep does you lots of good.

If your sleep is light or broken—if you dream all night—you can't build up strength and health. You'll never get sound, refreshing sleep unless you relax. You can't relax in a bed that rattles or groans—or on a spring that squeaks every time you move.

The least noise keeps the nerves on edge. You may not wake up—but your nerves will. That's one reason you dream.

WHAT you need for deep, dreamless sleep all night is a perfectly quiet bed and a spring that invites complete relaxation.

That is why folks sleep so much better on a Simmons Metal Bed and a Slumber King Spring.

The Simmons Bed is noiseless. It locks firm at the corners. The corner locks are made of pressed steel—have much longer bearing surfaces than the average—fit true and snug—not a creak, rattle, or feeling of unsteadiness.

The Simmons Pressed Steel Corner Locks are protected by basic patents. They are the most fundamental inventions of modern bed manufacturing—exclusive with Simmons, not to be duplicated or imitated.

And these patented corner locks have made possible the Three-piece Bed—the new Simmons idea—the spring forming a single unit with the side rails.

THE Slumber King Spring really does what you have always wanted a spring to do.

It is a new and advanced idea. It is a system of elastic steel strips with spirals of high test spring wire—so combined that the spring action is equal in all directions.

The Slumber King Spring yields to the weight of the body, but supports it. It fits square on the bed. It does not sag, hump—or lose its resiliency. It invites sound, health-giving sleep.

The Slumber King Spring is finished in oxidized silver. It is rustproof. It has no loose ends or rough corners—cannot wear or tear the ticking.

ONE great cause of the restlessness that leads to dreams is sleeping with someone else.

The most advanced thought of the day about sleep is "a separate bed for each sleeper," either in a separate room or in a Twin Bed.

Physicians have been urging Twin Beds for years—and Simmons Company has long made a specialty of Twin Beds.

They are welcomed by people of nice feeling everywhere

ALL leading merchants have Simmons Metal Beds and Slumber King Springs.

MEMPHIAN IN DUGOUT KILLED BY HUN SHELL

News of the death in France of Corp. Albert H. Manus, 148, Hernandez road, Memphis, Tenn., was received here today. He was killed by a German shell exploding near his dugout on Sept. 28, 1918. He was in Corp. Manus' platoon at the time.

It was on the dark and rainy night of Sept. 28 at Caumont dugout, north of Juncourt, that Corp. Manus was killed, wrote Private Steele. There was a small dugout, more of a shelter than a dugout, it being covered with a piece of sheet iron and affording but little or no protection from shells. It was in this that Albert and I and two others crawled for shelter while awaiting daylight when we were to go over the top following a brief barrage. Albert and I had not slept any that night. About 4 o'clock we must have gone to sleep, for I remember nothing or knew nothing of what happened until one of the boys began shaking me and asking if I was hurt.

A shell had fallen just inside the trench facing our shelter, killing two boys who were sitting on the outside. The shell ploughed deep into the ground and in exploding, came up through our shelter, instantly killing Corp. Manus and wounding another one of the boys so badly that he died on the way to the hospital. I was hit on the forehead.

Corp. Manus was buried the next day in the American cemetery at Hebeville.
